

This older brother evidently knows how to play doctor, in real earnest. He knows about Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. His mother told him. Her mother told her, and her grandmother's mother told her mother. It's the one standard cough medicine for children.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

is entirely free from narcotics or poison of any kind. It is the great remedy the world over for colds, coughs, croup, whooping-cough, influenza, la grippe, and all bronchial complaints.

Accept no substitute or cheap and worthless imitation. Be sure you get Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Put up in large and small bottles.

BASEBALL OWNER SWINGS AT CUPID

MANAGER OBJECTS TO PLAYERS BEING MARRIED WHILE DIAMOND SEASON IS IN PROGRESS

"This marrying business on my team must stop," said Manager Berry yesterday, just a little put out.

"What do you mean?" "Here Nagle takes a wife tomorrow," replied Berry. "I could stand for that. One player was not so much, but now Ellis comes along and touches me for $75 to buy his girl an engagement ring. That's a whole lot of money to spend on a girl."

"Don't you believe in encouraging matrimony?" "Yes, I do," he asserted with emphasis, "but I believe there should be a season for this sort of thing, just as there is a season for baseball, and a season to shoot ducks. I'm no anti-race suicide kid that Teddy Roosevelt talks about. That's not my style. I like to see the boys happily married, and I say God bless them. But players can't do themselves justice when their heads are full of nonsense and love. This is why I advocate a marrying and a cooling season for the boys."

"Will you give Nagle a few days off to celebrate his nuptials?" "Celebrate his what?" "Are you going to give him a few days off to take a honeymoon trip?"

Nagle's honeymoon will be spent right there in the box," said the Angel manager, pointing towards the center of the field. "I would like to do the nice thing by Nagle, but as I say, this is a baseball season, not a season for matrimony. This should be cut out."

To add to Berry's uneasiness a fan called Berry's attention to the fact that the distance from the Angel's bench to the home plate was longer than from the Commuters' Right away Berry smelled a conspiracy. "Wonder if Van Hiltren did that to tire my men out?" piped Berry. "My men use big sticks, and I'll bet that he figured he would tire them out carrying them to and from the plate."

"That's inside baseball," observed Danny Long, with a dry smile. "That's done in all the big leagues if the visitors will stand for it."

"I would call that outside baseball, for we don't seem to be in it," retorted Berry, who had less experience than Long.

When some wise kodo essayed to enlist him in a discussion of the merits and demerits of the double-squeeze play Berry very wisely declined to wade any farther out in the deep water.

JACK McFADDEN TO FIGHT.
SAN FRANCISCO, May 22.—Johnny Murphy left today for Eureka to finish his training for his twenty-round battle with Jack McFadden of Honolulu, slated to be pulled off May 25. This will give the fans a good line on Murphy's ability as a fighter over a distance of ground. The sturdy little Irish lad's friends claim that he is unable to do himself justice in four-round encounter and figure on him making a mark for himself in the world of pugilism when he starts after the bonafide professionals. The sports of Eureka should see a rattling good go, as McFadden is a mixer pure and simple and a knockout is bound to occur, because Murphy never backs up an inch, but toes the scratch and exchanges wallop for wallop.

SUCCESSFUL WORK OF WOMAN'S BOARD

ANNUAL MEETING OF MISSION WORKERS CONCLUDED YESTERDAY.

At the annual meeting of the Woman's Board, which was held all day yesterday at the Central Union church, the following officers for the ensuing year were elected:

Mrs. Doremus Scudder president; Mrs. S. E. Bishop, Miss Martha Chamberlain, Mrs. Theodore Richards, Mrs. O. H. Gulick, and Mrs. Lydia B. Coan vice presidents; Miss M. L. Sheeley, recording secretary; Mrs. W. E. Brown home secretary; Mrs. A. Francis odd foreign secretary; Mrs. B. F. Dillingham, treasurer and Mrs. W. L. Moore, assistant treasurer. The superintendents of departments were reappointed.

There was a large attendance of delegates from all parts of the Territory, and quite a number of visitors from different points on the mainland who are interested in mission work also attended and told of the progress being made in their respective localities. Reports from the various officers of the Board and from the several standing committees and heads of departments, were generally most encouraging and showed that the organization is doing well.

Both the morning and afternoon sessions were presided over by Mrs. Doremus Scudder, president of the board while in the morning the devotional

BARNEY JOY USED BERTH HAMMOCK

EXPERIENCE OF THE HAWAIIAN HAD IN A PULLMAN CAR—RESTORED HIS PITCHING ARM.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 24.—Emanating from a source near Fillmore and Sutter streets, in very fact where half the evil smells of bad tobacco on Fillmore street are bred, comes this: Barney Joy, the Seal's imported slacker, took his first long railroad journey on his recent trip to Portland with the San Francisco team. When a man has a journey he emulates the good union of men of San Francisco and walks. When the ubiquitous Pullman porter had finally arranged Barney's berth on the first night the big fellow donned his "robe de chambre" and prepared to retire. Waiting until the lurch of the train brought the berth somewhere near at hand he lunged inside. In less time than it takes to tell it he was out again seeking for information. Swaying across the aisle he parted the curtains of Nick Williams' compartment and asked why the little hammock had been placed in his berth. Drawing a long face, Nick said: "Why, don't you know? They always fix those for the pitchers; that's to rest your pitching arm in. And for the rest of the journey Barney slept with his arm high above his head wildly waving in the swing in a vain effort to travel a la mode.

BASE BALL GOSSIP.
A local player says he has discovered a new play now that they are so popular. His idea is to put a sharp spike near the end of his bat. He will hit the ball so that it will stick, and he can then outrun it to first by carrying his bat part of the way with him. Great scheme!

They tell a good story on Umpire Derrick. Last year, when the Seals were playing Seattle, Parke Wilson got on his high horse and became so offensive that Derrick gave him a minute to get off the field. Derrick pulled his watch and it was not running. He covered the face of it at once, however, and Parke trailed to the bench.

There have been many queer plays pulled off on the diamond, and every year brings out a new one, but the most unique of all was brought about during the recent series with the Cincinnati Reds. A batter having struck out was thrown out at first by the third baseman. Can you beat it? It happened thus: Whitse had struck at the ball three times. The last one was really a tip foul, and struck Schlei on his shins, but the umpire did not hear it on account of his ear-muffs. The ball rolled in front of the plate, and, thinking it a foul, Schlei threw it to third, as is usually done when fouls are hit. To the astonishment of everybody the umpire called it a "strike," and Kane threw the ball over to first and Whitse was out. That is the first time on record that a third baseman ever got an assist on a strikeout.

TONG TROUBLES NOW ON TRIAL

MEMBERS OF RIVAL CHINESE SOCIETIES CHARGE EACH OTHER WITH ASSAULT.

The trial of Loo Yip, Lee Look and Leong Ken for assault with deadly weapons on Pak Chee and also the trial of Pak Chee and Eng Yan for assault upon Loo Yip and Lee Look were before the District Magistrate yesterday afternoon. The trouble arises from a Chinese long affair. Leong Ken is an editor of the Sun Kwok Bok newspaper and says his arrest was a mistake, he having called at the station as a reporter where he was identified as one of the knifers.

The alleged knifers in the first case are members of the Bow Wong Society and are represented by E. M. Watson. In the second case the defendants are supposed to be members of the rival Ming Sin Sear society, represented by J. Lightfoot.

exercises were led by Mrs. J. T. Gulick. Luncheon was served at the noon hour in a big tent on the lawn of the church.

Among the visitors present who carried greetings to the Hawaiian workers from similar organizations, were Dr. Warren F. Day, and Mrs. Day, of Los Angeles and President Mills, of Mills Institute, San Francisco.

The officers elected for the coming year are almost identical with those of last year.

restored to him, probably to permit him to hold some political job. Lema appears, has been convicted of horse stealing, obstructing justice, malicious injury, and drunkenness. Seven convictions appear against him, during a period of eleven years. While Lema was in jail he was busy considerable of the time, trying to break out and did escape on one occasion. Governor Carter refused to restore his civil rights although a number of prominent citizens had signed the petition in favor of Lema.

PAST DUE ENVELOPES.

It is intimated that the United States authorities may take up the matter of using the mails to send envelopes with the "P. D." or "Past Due" collection notices printed upon them. H. T. Mills the collector of obsolete accounts, is charged with so using the mails.

RUN OF BURGLARIES.

There have been several burglaries within the last few days. On Monday night the residence of Dr. McLennan, Beretania and Richards streets, was entered and a gold watch a purse and some jewelry were taken. At the residence of A. Menefoglio, on Merchant street, a gold watch and chain and a small amount of money were taken, in previous burglaries watches were taken.

AT THE ORPHEUM.

Tonight the Ellefords will repeat Chas. E. Blaney's comedy melodrama "My Tomboy Girl." This is the piece that made a hit on its first presentation. The play is full of strong and laughable situations. Among the scenic effects are the Jersey City Ferry House, Old Furry Hall and the interior of the Devil's Cave. Specialties will be given by Miss Mattie Lloyd Luce, the Osborne Children and La Vigne.

There will be a grand family matinee on Saturday afternoon. Seats for the balance of the engagement now on sale at the box office daily from 10 a. m.
